A self-described “prisoner to hope,” Williams fuses theology with public policy to bring a fresh social justice perspective to the public arena. Williams draws a distinction between religiosity and theology and it is this characteristic that sharpens his critique of current events. His commitment to “changing the status quo conversation,” prods his readers to think deeper about the critical issues facing Americans in the 21st century.

As the only pastor/syndicated columnist in the country, Williams writes a twice weekly social/political column for the Oakland Tribune. His column appears in 10 publications and several progressive web sites across the country. In addition, Williams has had articles appear in the Atlanta Journal Constitution, Baltimore Sun, Los Angeles Daily News, San Francisco Chronicle, Christianity Today, UK Guardian, Tikkun Magazine, and Public Theology. In 2005, he was voted by CityFlight magazine as one of the “30 Most Influential African Americans in the San Francisco Bay Area.”

Princeton professor Cornel West considers Byron’s work “groundbreaking and historic.” The Rev. Dr. J. Alfred Smith, Sr., Pastor Emeritus of Allen Temple Baptist Church calls Byron “the Reinhold Niebuhr of his day.”

Williams has interviewed former presidential candidate John Kerry, the late Senator Ted Kennedy, then Senator Joe Biden, Princeton professor Cornel West, social critic Michael Eric Dyson, Bishop T.D. Jakes, and writer/poet Maya Angelou.

Williams is the author of “Strip Mall Patriotism: Moral Reflections on the Iraq War”. He has spoken throughout the country, including presenting the 2006 keynote address at the University of California African American graduation ceremony. Williams has appeared on numerous television and radio news programs, including CNN, ABC Radio, Fox News, and National Public Radio. He is also a featured writer on Arianna Huffington’s popular blog.

He holds a Bachelor of Arts degree in Political Science; his masters’ thesis at the Pacific School of Religion of the Graduate Theological Union in Berkeley, CA emphasized a theology of liberation in an urban context. He also speaks French. A single parent for the past 10 years, Byron lives in Oakland, CA with his son Malik Isaiah Williams, and their dog Sheba.

2010 HEALTH AND WELLNESS SCREENINGS

Presented by:

Allen Temple Baptist Church Health Education Ministry

Held Every Fourth Sunday from February to December 2010

WHAT IS IT?

Each month this year the Health Education Ministry will present a series of health screenings designed to detect many common health conditions which if not diagnosed could lead to severe health complications and or death. The Health Ministry wants to educate and inform our Allen Temple family on best practices available dealing with preventive health care and maintenance. Each month we will highlight different health conditions per the calendar below.

WHEN & WHERE IS IT?

Screenings will be held the fourth Sunday of each month in the Family Life Center at the following times:

- Between 8:00am & 11:00am services
 - After 11:00am service until 2:00pm
- Please check your church bulletins for any future program

February – Blood Pressure/Cholesterol/CO

March – Women’s Health

April – Black Cancer Week

May – Childhood Immunizations

June – Men’s Health

July – Open

August – ATBC Health Fair

September – Prostate Cancer Awareness

October – Breast Cancer Awareness

November – Smoking/Diabetes/Alzheimer’s
